BEYOND GIVING: SEE HER. KNOW HER. STAND WITH HER. ?

This November, as we journey towards Giving Tuesday, Women of the Way Ministries Uganda invites you to look beyond what you see and discover the stories of the Karamojong women and children living in Jinja.

Behind the faces often associated with poverty, street begging and social exclusion are people with rich cultural identities, dreams, abilities and hopes for a better future. They are mothers, daughters, leaders and children who deserve to be seen, heard, valued and treated with dignity.

For many Karamojong families, life in Jinja comes with challenges beyond poverty. They face prejudice, negative stereotypes, social rejection and limited opportunities. But we believe their circumstances should never define their worth or determine their future.

Through this campaign, we want to help you KNOW HER – discover the beauty of Karamojong culture and identity; SEE HER – understand the realities and challenges she faces; and STAND WITH HER – become part of the change through giving, sponsorship, partnership, volunteering and advocacy.

Throughout November, we will be sharing stories, testimonies, cultural insights and updates on what God has been doing through WOW this year. We will also introduce you to the needs and opportunities through which you can become part of this work.

We believe that sharing the love of Christ goes beyond words. It means restoring dignity, creating opportunities, standing against discrimination and walking alongside those who need hope.

You don't have to do everything, but you can do something. You can give, pray, share a story, introduce us to a potential partner or simply help someone see the Karamojong community differently.

Join us on this journey. Follow our weekly updates, share our campaign and help us build a community where every woman and child is valued.

Together, let us go beyond giving.

SEE HER. KNOW HER. STAND WITH HER.

With love,
Women of the Way Ministries Uganda ?
